PASTOR'S NOTES

Today, the Third Sunday in Ordinary Time, is, for the second year in a row, designated as the Sunday of the Word of God, which will be "a fitting part of that time of year when we are encouraged to strengthen our bonds with the Jewish people and to pray for Christian unity" (from the motu proprio of Pope Francis entitled Aperuit illis of 30 September 2019). This is a day to remember our great source of spiritual riches found in the Sacred Scriptures, the Bible. It is not limited to today, but today should be a reminder of what the great Scripture scholar of the early Church, St. Jerome, once wrote about how ignorance of the Scriptures is ignorance of Christ. We encounter the risen Lord in the Scriptures and "the breaking of bread" (which is to say, the Holy Mass, where we have both the Liturgy of the Word and the Liturgy of the Eucharist), just as did the two disciples on the road to Emmaus on Easter Sunday. The Lord Whose presence we welcomed at the Annunciation, Christmas, and Epiphany, is the Lord we encounter in the sacraments, especially the Holy Eucharist, His Real Presence in our midst, but also in the Word, since He is the Word-made-Flesh Who made His dwelling among us.

We received a note from a Dr. Anna Worley in Omaha: "You recently helped out a patient of mine in need of financial help to pay his rent. Thank you for meeting this need and being the hands and feet of Jesus. Blessings to you!" It was addressed to the whole parish, although I have given it to Nadine Carlson, who manages "My Neighbor's Closet" on the south side of our property. Thanks to all the wonderful volunteers there, and thanks to all of you in the parish who are making some good things happen for a lot of people in need. "And the king will say to them in reply: 'Amen, I say to you, whatever you did for one of these least brothers of mine, you did for Me'" (Mt. 25:41). We as a parish do not exist only for ourselves and our own needs, but as an instrument of God's wondrous will to bring all things together in Christ. Thanks to all who share our mission!

Many thanks to Mark and Roger Schuette, for fixing an "oops" in the carpet in front of the altar (burning charcoal during Forty Hours). As good as new!

We welcome all the men and women who are taking the step of asking for preparation for the sacraments, whether that includes Baptism, Confirmation, and First Holy Communion, or Penance, Confirmation, and First Holy Communion. May God bless all those who are responding to any grace that is being offered by God. The Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults (RCIA), which is based on the historical "initiation" method known as the "catechumenate," is meant to assist people seeking to join us in the fullness of the faith. Those who are not baptized or catechized were the primary focus in the ancient Church for that method, but today, the needs of people are much more varied—not just non-Christians who want to join us, but also those who were baptized, but not catechized in the faith, those who were catechized, but not baptized, and those who were baptized, but did not receive one or more other sacraments. The classes on Tuesday night, a major part of the process, are also excellent for Catholics who were only catechized as children, or who would like an "adult education" approach. It was not so very long ago that people who memorized all the answers in the old "Baltimore Catechism" were considered to have "graduated" and finished with all the learning about their faith that was necessary. It is not true now (and it was not true then) that one can "graduate" after receiving the Sacrament of Confirmation and not need to know or learn any more. Our "learning" takes place until we are (God-willing) able to see the Lord face-to-face in heaven. Bishop Flavin (1967-92) of our diocese used to say that our job is not to "keep the faith," but to "spread the faith." Our faith is not just some personal keepsake or family heirloom, but, truly, a gift that was meant to be shared with others. Go out to all the world and tell the Good News!
